Message from the President

May 16, 2022

Dear Pace graduates, parents, families, and friends:

We made it.

After two of the most challenging years in recent history, after lockdowns and illness and worry, after remote events and Zoom ceremonies, you have arrived at Commencement 2022. It is a tremendous milestone, and a real testament to your resilience, dedication, and commitment.

Congratulations.

To the Pace University classes of 2020, 2021, and 2022: We couldn't be prouder of you. You kept your eyes on the prize, and you did the work needed to get you to graduation. You deserve every bit of praise we can give you for this great success.

To the parents, families, and friends supporting these graduates: You're part of their accomplishment, too. You helped them do the work, helped them be their best, helped them get to this ceremony. On the graduates' behalf, I want to thank you for everything you've done and will continue to do.

Students, you have whole lives and so many opportunities ahead of you. You have grown and explored here at Pace, but your worlds are about to get immeasurably larger. You'll have careers, families, and opportunities that you never imagined. As you grow and change, as the world changes, the skills you learned here will always stay with you: how to think, how to learn, how to be a leader in your field, how to be a valued part of your community. And I know the perseverance and resourcefulness that brought you to today have shown that you will accomplish anything you set your mind to.

As we send you into the world, I want you to remember Pace and the people you encountered here. This place and this community have made you who you are. You are part of the Pace family, and you'll always be welcome here. Career Services will always be available to you. The new Pace University Alumni Association will keep you connected. We will be here to support you as you move through your lives, and I hope you'll help us create opportunities for the next generation of Pace students.

I can't wait to see what you'll do next.

Sincerely,

Marvin Krislov
President

Honorary Degree Citation

Doctor of Humane Letters Mayor Eric Adams

Mayor Eric Adams knows what it takes to succeed.

Born in Brooklyn and raised in Queens, he watched his single mom clean houses to support her six kids. There wasn't always food on the table. They were often on the brink of homelessness. When he was 15 years old, he was arrested—and then beaten by officers in the basement of the 103rd Precinct.

Remarkably, Mayor Adams let that horrible experience push him forward. He remembered the respect afforded to the Black police officer who'd helped put an end to his assault. He was counseled by Reverend Herbert Daughtry, a community leader, that he could help change the police department from within. And so he decided to become a cop.

That determination changed his life. Mayor Adams earned an associate degree from New York City College of Technology while working, a bachelor's degree from the John Jay College of Criminal Justice, and eventually an MPA from Marist College. He spent more than two decades in the New York Police Department, rising to the rank of captain. He also co-founded the group 100 Blacks in Law Enforcement Who Care, pushing for reform of police culture.

He fought crime, and he fought police misconduct.

Honorary Degree Citation

Pleasantville Kenan Award for Teaching Excellence

Ramón Emilio Fernández, PhD

*Assistant Professor, Mathematics
Dyson College of Arts and Sciences*

Professor Ramón Emilio Fernández joined Pace in 2016 and serves as the coordinator for developmental and first-year math courses.

Professor Fernández's teaching and research lie at the intersection of public education policy and high school mathematics content. His service is grounded in areas of justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion, as well as community service in public schools in the Bronx, and more recently in the Yonkers public school system. He leads various efforts at Pace University and has founded several. These include becoming co-coordinator of anti-racism education for Dyson, founding co-chair of the People of Color Collective, and founding faculty advisor to the Dominican and christian student associations.

Since joining Pace, Professor Fernández has trained over a dozen students in academic research in STEM, has mentored more than four dozen students, and remains devoted to student and faculty development. About half a dozen of his research mentees have secured graduate school positions in prestigious STEM programs and internships.

Anna Shostya, PhD

Associate Professor, Economics
Dyson College of Arts and Sciences

A native of Ukraine, Professor Anna Shostya is the Associate Economics Chair and faculty advisor for the Pforzheimer Honors College. Her major fields of study are transition economies, sustainable development, and higher education pedagogy.

Joining Pace faculty in 2000, Professor Shostya has designed and taught high-impact courses that cultivated students' curiosity and fostered life-long critical thinking skills. Her Learning Communities courses combined economics with other disciplines, such as political science and photography. For 10 years, she had also been a visiting lecturer at the University of Shanghai for Science and Technology. Her teaching in China helped her develop and teach a study-abroad course, From Wall Street to the Great Wall, that gave Pace students an opportunity to explore China's economy and culture first-hand.

Her passion for economics encouraged hundreds of young female students to explore the traditionally male-dominated discipline. Being a firm believer in undergraduate research, Professor Shostya has supervised Honors theses and research projects that students presented at the Society of Fellows and professional conferences. Her mentorship and dedication to student research—for which she received numerous mentorship awards—helped many of her students launch rewarding careers.

Professor Shostya is an avid photographer and has participated in several photo exhibitions. At Pace, she also organized numerous student photo exhibits that explored issues of inclusion and equity within an economic framework.

2022 Trustee Award

The Trustee Award is presented to the graduating student or students whose positive contributions to University life and whose academic accomplishments exemplify the highest level of achievement attainable for an undergraduate.

New York City

Maria Elisa Escobar will graduate Pace as one of its premier student leaders. Throughout her undergraduate career, she has consistently demonstrated an exemplary dedication toward improving the Pace Community for the better.

In the classroom, Maria Elisa has been one of the University's best and brightest students. Earning her Bachelor of Arts in Women's and Gender Studies alongside minors in psychology and peace and justice studies, Maria Elisa also boasts a 3.88 GPA. As a result, she has earned praise from her faculty chair as a top student who not only demonstrates a strong grasp of content but is also able to positively transform classroom environments by pushing new students to think in new and exciting ways. As a member of the Women's Leadership Initiative during her first year on campus, she demonstrated a penchant for academic leadership, even amidst upper-level students.

Maria Elisa has devoted much of her undergraduate career to the anti-trafficking movement. After volunteering with World Without Exploitation, she co-founded WorldWE Youth Coalition, a national youth-led network that uses advocacy, educational, and awareness raising initiatives to end sexual exploitation and human trafficking. In her two years since co-founding the Youth Coalition, Maria Elisa has had the experience of organizing two virtual summits that mobilized over 1,000 young people across the country.

Additionally, she received an undergraduate research grant in Fall 2021 to undertake participatory action research with the WorldWE Youth Coalition titled The Passion for Change Knows No Age: An Exploration of Youth Leadership in the Anti-Trafficking Movement. In her capstone project, she examined the role of young people working in a national coalition of organizations dedicated to ending sexual exploitation and human trafficking, and considered how youth addresses gaps in the movement, generates new strategies to advocate for change, and activates other young people to participate in political spaces. Through this work, she was invited by the United Nations to speak at the 65th annual Commission on the Status of Women—serving as an important representative to a majorly influential group regarding this pressing issue.

For her commitment to Pace and her extraordinary accomplishments in leadership and academic achievement, it is a pleasure to award Maria Elisa Escobar the 2022 Trustee Award.

2022 Community Service Award

The Community Service Award is presented to the graduating student or students whose active contributions to the life of the University community and to the endeavors of our neighbors in the surrounding community most admirably embody an appreciation for the value of social responsibility.

New York City

Throughout her time at Pace Alexandra Marie Kennedy has maintained a strong commitment to excellence, service, and justice, culminating in an undergraduate experience where she has been unwavering in her focus to truly make a difference.

2022 Elisabeth Haub School of Law Dean's Award

The Elisabeth Haub School of Law Dean's Award is presented to a graduating student in the full and/or part-time program who best demonstrates academic excellence, leadership, and service to the law school and community.

Madison Renee Sha

Madison Renee Sha has been an exemplary student leader during her time at the Elisabeth Haub School of Law, demonstrating outstanding commitment to academic excellence, public service, community spirit, diversity, equity, and inclusion.

At Haub Law, she focused her studies on environmentalism, international rights, and social justice. In her final year alone, Madison drafted successful motions for the International Union for the Conservation of Nature (IUCN). Her motion aims to prevent future zoonotic diseases like COVID-19. She also worked for the Environmental Protection Agency's Waste and Chemical Enforcement Division and became a published author. She then went on to present her paper, "International Law and Climate Displacement: Why a Climate Justice Approach is Needed" at the first Symposium on Legal System Changes to Address Climate Change and the Energy Transition held in Texas in April.

While earning her environmental certificate, Madison has also prioritized community at the law school, spearheading many programs and initiatives as President of the Law School's Student Bar Association. She has used her platform to consistently address intersections of legal education and social issues. She founded and implemented the first-ever free textbook exchange at Haub Law to ensure resources for students who could otherwise not afford their course books. Now, the library is a success with more than 400 books in exchange each semester. Madison also founded the Peer Leader program, assigning upper-level students to incoming first-year students, and organized the first-ever suicide prevention walk at Haub Law. The event raised $6,000 for the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention, which brought participants and speakers together from across the state to create awareness of mental health.

Madison continues to utilize her platform to amplify other voices. During her final semester, she commenced a legislative proposal to Haub School for implementing new diversity requirements for student learning. Madison feels that part of being a successful lawyer means challenging our own biases, continuing our learning, and redefining the status quo to be the best for all people.

For her demonstrated academic excellence, leadership, and service to the law school and community, the Elisabeth Haub School of Law honors Madison Renee Sha with the 2022 Dean's Award.

Academic Regalia

The history of academic dress dates back to the early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required all “Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors” of the University of Coimbra to wear gowns. In England, during the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a question whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or in civilian dress. Gowns may have been worn for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars, while hoods seem to have served to cover the tonsured head until replaced by the skull cap. In time, the skull cap was replaced by the mortarboard caps that are used widely today.

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume was formed to establish a suitable code of academic dress for the colleges and universities of the United States. The academic costume code recognizes three types of gowns, usually black. The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves. The gown for the master's degree has long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. A doctor's gown is faced with velvet, and has full, round, open sleeves bearing three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing and bars may either be black or the color distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. The hood is made of a material identical to the gown and is lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree. When the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. For Pace University, the official colors found in the hood are blue and gold. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hood and indicates the subject to which the degree pertains.

For all academic purposes, the colors associated with the various subjects at Pace University are as follows:

Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business	Drab
Education	Light Blue
Fine Arts	Brown
Health Professions, Communication Sciences and Disorders	Sage
Health Professions, Health Science	Sage
Health Professions, Nursing	Apricot
Health Professions, Physician Assistant	Kelly Green
Journalism, Publishing	Crimson
Law	Purple
Psychology	Royal Blue
Public Administration	Peacock Blue
Science	Golden Yellow

Honor Societies

In Recognition of Pace University Student Veterans

Pace University remains committed to providing high-quality and affordable education to our veteran students who have served our nation with honor and distinction. We feel privileged to have you as members of the Pace Community, now and in the future. We know that your contributions have enriched our academic and student life beyond measure. We recognize your service and sacrifice and wish you the very best in your future personal and career endeavors.

Our graduating student veterans are distinguished by the cords that indicate the branch of service that they served within the United States Armed Forces.

Traditional Symbols

In addition to the regalia and finery customarily worn by University faculty and officers, formal academic ceremonies often include colorful signs and symbols representing the history and traditions of university life as well as specific aspects of the university being celebrated.

Flags

At Pace University ceremonies, in addition to the flags of the United States, the state of New York, and of the University, the president is represented by a swallow-tail flag of a blue field with a gold border bearing the University seal in pale blue, ringed by the inscription "Office of the President."

Each school/college within the University (College of Health Professions, Dyson College of Arts and Sciences, Elisabeth Haub School of Law, Lubin School of Business, the School of Education, and the Seidenberg School of Computer Science and Information Systems) is signified by a blue and gold banner with the school/college name and University logo.

Maces

The mace was developed as an armor-crushing weapon in the 13th century. Battle axes and maces were formidable chivalric tools of combat and warfare. They became symbols of authority, commanding attention and respect for the bearer, and were associated with those responsible for protecting the king's person. By the 16th century, maces were ornately designed and decorated with jewels and precious metals, often crafted with elegant architectural motifs.

At Pace University, the dean for students carries two maces. One is a replica of a Gothic battle mace with a head formed by five flanges, topped by a fluted conical finial. The rondel consists of a rusticated wood shaft attached to a metal cylindrical base, all of which is brass plated and inscribed with the words "Pace University." The mace was introduced in 1968 at the first commencement held on the Pleasantville Campus. The second mace was first used in 1927 at commencement exercises of Good Counsel College, which became the College of White Plains and which was consolidated in 1975 with Pace University. The brass and wood mace is topped by a sphere and a formée cross with a garnet at its center. The rondel, consisting of two brass sections separated by a ribbed wooden grip, has a sphere at its base, which bears the inscription "Pace University."

University marshals carry batons that represent the schools/colleges of the University. The University seal is mounted on each end of the baton, which is made of American walnut. The name of each person who has served as dean of the school/college is engraved on a brass plate attached to the school/college baton.

Verge

The verge, an elongated mace or staff carried by the grand marshal, is made of Honduran rosewood. It is topped by a replica of a bronze-coated copper globe made in 1510, which is the earliest existing representation depicting the discoveries of Christopher Columbus in the Western Hemisphere. Beneath the globe, each Pace campus is represented by ribbons of the campus color: green for New York City, blue for Pleasantville, and red for White Plains. The upper section of the shaft is inlaid with rare woods representing the four reaches of the world: ebony, teak, olive, and oak.

The Centennial Medallion (retired)

The medallion was struck in commemoration of the University's Centennial in 2006. Both the Chair of the Board of Trustees and the University President wore the Centennial Medallion, which is made of bronze and layered with silver plate. The face of the medallion is the Pace University seal and the reverse bears the engraved image of the Centennial mark.

The Centennial Staff

The University President carries an ornate staff that was crafted in 2006 to commemorate the University's Centennial. The Centennial Medallion set in brass tops the staff, which is almost six feet in height and made of solid wood.

The presidential flag, verge, and school/college batons were designed by John Mulgrew, Professor of Fine Arts.

The school/college banners were designed by Aliatu Burke.

The Centennial staff was designed by David Grupper.

The Centennial staff was crafted by Michael Fayed, Master Wood Turner.

Al ma Ma-ter, heart and soul in-cessantly to the mem'ry of our dear and on-ly heart re-joic-ces at the thought of hap-py days. True, we miss the raise our voi-ces with your stan-dard held on high. On that we'll never nor the friends we hold so dear. Mem'ries with the dearest where thy bea-cons show the way. True to thee we'll be for ever as we
